

G. O. P. NOMINEE FOR SUFFRAGE

Judge Robinson Writes That He Will Vote for the Enfranchisement Amendment

Judge Ira E. Robinson, Republican candidate for Governor of West Virginia, has come out in a "strong endorsement of the cause of woman suffrage and has enrolled his name among the overwhelming number that will vote for the amendment this fall. In taking his stand for votes for women Judge Robinson is but standing upon the state and national planks of his party platform and shows that he is in the forefront of practical reform movements.

In his letter to the chairman of the State Campaign Committee the distinguished candidate says:

"My Dear Mrs. Yost:
"Personally I shall vote for the proposed amendment to our State Constitution granting equal suffrage.

"With sincere regards, I am
"Very truly yours,
"IRA E. ROBINSON."

The candidates of all the leading parties have now followed their party platform declarations with endorsements of the pending amendment. They have been followed by large numbers of their fellow members and it is expressions of opinion favorable to the cause of woman are any criterion the success of the campaign is assured.

RABBI SILVER TO TAKE THE STUMP

Eloquent Leader of Thought Is To Speak For Equal Suffrage in West Virginia

One of the representative men of the state is Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, of the Temple Leshem Shomayim, Wheeling. No West Virginia religious congregation of any denomination is led by a man of more intellectual culture and vigor of thought than this Wheeling Temple. It will be remembered that when the Woman's Edition of the Intelligencer, appeared, Rabbi Silver was represented therein by an article of exceptional strength in which he gave some of the reasons why he favored the enfranchisement of women. That article was a classic and has been quoted throughout the State.

The people of West Virginia will be delighted to know that this distinguished religious leader will soon be heard on the stump in favor of the pending suffrage amendment. An oratorical treat is in store for our people. Rabbi Silver is a man of profound learning and a deep thinker. He arrives at his conclusions on important subjects only after extended study and research. When he favors a movement of such moment as the extension of the vote to women, his hearers are assured that his conclusions are the summing up of all the evidence by a mature and trained mind.

Rabbi Silver's itinerary has not yet been worked out by the state campaign committee at Morgantown but it will include set speeches in half a dozen of the leading cities.

MACCABEES FOR SUFFRAGE.

At a recent meeting in Grand Rapids, Mich., the Great Hiv of the Ladies of the Modern Maccabees, representing more than 50,000 women again endorsed woman suffrage. The resolution reads:

"Resolved, That this convention officially endorses national woman suffrage and will stand at all times ready to aid fulfillment of its purpose."

WEST VIRGINIA MEN ADVISORS

Four Big Men of Mountain State Added to Long List of Suffrage Workers

To the splendid list of representative West Virginia men who have accepted appointment on the Men's Advisory Board of the West Virginia Equal Suffrage Association, have been added within the week four of the best known citizens of the state. They are Prof. Joseph Rosier, president of the Fairmont State Normal School, than whom there is no more widely honored educator in the state. He is constantly in demand as a conductor of teachers' institutes and as a speaker before educational and scientific bodies. He has frequently spoken before the educational section of the great Chautauqua Lake assembly.

Hon. Louis Bennett, of Weston, is another who has kindly volunteered his services for the "good of the cause." Mr. Bennett needs no introduction to the people of his native state. Long a public man, once the candidate of the great Democratic party for the governorship and always a leader in effort for civic betterment, his place is secure in the regard of his countrymen.

Mr. William Banfield of Follansbee, has given to the service of the women of West Virginia his business acumen and experience. He is possibly the largest manufacturer in the state and has been greatly successful. It is needless to say that the association officials will frequently listen to him in his advisory capacity.

Mr. Roy B. Naylor of Wheeling, completes this quartet of recent volunteers. He was formerly secretary of the State Board of Trade and as such came into close relations with most of the business men of West Virginia. He has had experience in planning state-wide campaigns and he is the right man in the right place.

TRUTH IN OFFICIAL'S WORDS

Secretary Hugo Says Right to Vote Is the Right Preservative of All Rights.

"The right to vote is the only essential right of citizenship. It is the right preservative of all rights," declared Secretary of New York State, Francis M. Hugo. One might have thought he was giving an address upon woman suffrage, but he wasn't. He was outlining the method by which 10,000 or more soldier-voters of New York State might participate in the coming elections from darkest Mexico. According to law, it is the duty of the Secretary of State to provide and distribute registry blanks and official war ballots to soldiers and sailors in the United States service. "These men," continues the Secretary, "qualified to vote at home cannot be disqualified merely because they are out of the state, engaged in supporting the government of the United States."

Of the millions of women who are disqualified to vote, not because they are out of the state, but because they are in the state which does not regard them as citizens, the government has nothing to say. Yet the women who stay at home supporting the government hold with Secretary Hugo that "the right to vote is the right preservative of all rights"—and they wonder how long it will be before they are permitted to exercise that right.

DO YOU BELIEVE

That the women of West Virginia are as capable and as intelligent as the women of the twelve enfranchised States? They vote for the suffrage amendment November 7.

DESCENDANT OF NOTED BEAUTY OF LONG AGO HAS HER SHARE OF PULCHRITUDE

Mlle. Palerme.

Mlle. Cina Palerme, who is acknowledged to be one of the most beautiful actresses on the international stage, is a direct descendant of the renowned French beauty of the sixteenth century, Mlle. Marie Charlotte de Moulmont. Mlle. Palerme's name in private life is Marie Louise Moulmont. This picture of her was taken recently while she was enjoying a holiday at the seashore.

The National View

Wanton Cruelty.—Barely has there been such a glaring instance of unmitigated cruelty as that perpetrated on Carranza's delegates to the New London conference by Secretary Franklin K. Lane. As Carranza has announced—and the delegates have confirmed his announcement—the delegates are not authorized to discuss any subject except the withdrawal of American troops from Mexican territory, and they have not discussed any other subject. They are typical representatives of the bandit Carranza and as little interested in social reforms for Mexico as they are in the adoption of the forum system in Kamehatchia. But, being Latins, they have a veneer of politeness—the same sort of politeness which prompts the robber who steals your watch to offer you a cigar before parting—and, being the enemies of this country, they are constrained from frankly expressing their boredom. Taking advantage of their position, Secretary Lane has devoted an entire day to inflicting on them a lecture upon how other nations progress, describing the admirable methods employed by the United States to civilize and educate the Indians, etc. It is reported that the Carranzistas politely, but with difficulty, suppressed their yawns, and that a further exhibition of such wanton cruelty by Secretary Lane will result in the formation of a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Carranzistas.

The Unhappy Farmer.—Ex-Secretary James Wilson has pointed out, in an able argument, how "the farmer will pay the freight" under the Wilson-Adamson railway wage increase law; and now, from another source, comes information that Carranza, whom President Wilson has held up to admiration as a man "with those high ideals all right thinking men the world over must sympathize," has turned his attention from shooting railway strikers on sight to holding up American farmers. Mr. Carranza does not believe it practicable to invade this country and levy tribute on the farmers personally, but he has accomplished his end by establishing a dual monopoly which will take $20,000,000 out of the pockets of those American farmers who have to buy binding twine. A delegation representing the manufacturers of binding twine has laid the facts before Secretary Lansing, pointing out how American farmers are being mulcted by Carranza, and Secretary Lansing has had the nerve to tell the delegation that he will refer the matter to the New London conference which, as Carranza has formally announced, is expressly prohibited from considering any of the internal affairs of Mexico, or indeed, anything but the removal of American troops from Mexican territory.

Mr. Wilson's Ideal.—Despite President Wilson's idealization of Carranza at New London, and the solemn announcement of the war department, after the Carranza affair, that when Carranza returned those troops of the Tenth cavalry whom he had not shot he also returned their equipment as well, the highly interesting fact has now come to light that in a recent skirmish between United States troops and Carranzistas who were raiding American territory one of the rifles captured by the Americans bears the United States arsenal stamp and figure "X 19." These show, of course, that the rifle was one captured from the Tenth cavalry; that when Carranza asserted that he had returned all the equipment captured at Carrizal he did not tell the truth—or that when the war department announced that all the equipment had been returned it was purporting that policy of "pitiless publicity" which means "adroitly deceiving the American people."

A Gyroscopic Mind.—President Wilson has changed his mind and will not take the stump. He will merely go about the country making partisan speeches to non-partisan organizations. So reads the latest announcement of Vance McCormick, the Democratic national chairman. That, be it noted, was the announcement of Mr. McCormick on Thursday. The announcement that Mr. Wilson will take the stump is due now. Careful observation reveals the fact that on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays Mr. Wilson will not take the stump, and that on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays he will. All of this

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and full misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

HOSPITALS

Will Be Represented at a Convention to Be Held in the City of Huntington.

Arrangements are being completed for the meeting of the West Virginia State Hospital Association which will be held at Huntington on Wednesday, October 11, at which time it is expected that practically every hospital in the state will be represented. One of the features of the meeting will be the discussion of means for the betterment of hospital work in all the institutions of the state and there will be a number of prominent speakers on the program.

All directors of hospital companies, as well as physicians and superintendents, are members of the association and a representative convention is expected. Dr. Schofield, of Charleston, is president of the association, and Dr. St. Clair, of Bluefield, secretary. The association meets twice each year, the mid-season meeting being held with the State Medical Association.

At the regular convention this year business sessions will occupy but one day and in the evening the delegates will be the guests of the Cabell County Medical Society. It was not known last evening whether members of the management or any of the physicians of the local hospitals would attend, although a number contemplate doing so.

well known Republican. Several fine speakers are available for this meeting but President Louchery has not decided which one to use yet.

On account of the rapid growth made by the club during the last few weeks it was necessary to hold the meeting in the Hughes headquarters on Second street, as the county headquarters in the Goff building was not large enough to accommodate all the members who were attending the meeting.

BARNHART WILL

Is Probated Here and Homer W. Williams Qualifies as the Administrator.

The will of the late W. S. Barnhart was probated here Monday and Homer W. Williams qualified as administrator for the estate with will annexed. Bond of $50,000 was given with the Maryland Casualty Company surety.

Two-sevenths of the estate is left to Frank Barnhart, a nephew, and the remainder in trust to the Oil City, Pa., Trust Company for three brothers, John Jeremiah and William Barnhart, each to receive one-third of the income, but moneys advanced to any of the brothers is to be deducted in the distribution. Upon the death of any of the brothers, his share is to go to his children.

The Oil City Trust Company is named as executor of the will without bond.

SCHOOL HOUSE MEETINGS.

Announcement was made Monday morning by Roy E. Parrish, chairman of the Republican county executive committee, that school house meetings will be inaugurated in all parts of the county next Monday night. It is planned to have prominent speakers at all these meetings. Included in the list of speakers will be a number of local orators, but speakers from other parts of the state will also attend some of the meetings.

Splendid Showing of Comforts and Blankets

These cool nights makes us hunt for more bed covering, and if you find in going over your supply that you need anything more, we want to tell you that this store is well equipped to supply you. We have the strongest line of wool blankets we have ever shown. Due to the fact that we anticipated a shortage in stock and higher prices this Fall, so early this year while the snow was yet with us, we placed our order for a big line of woolen blankets and we now have the goods in stock ready for your inspection. Prices are very reasonable considering the strong advance in prices of raw materials, and while we have this present stock we will sell you what you want on the old basis of last spring's prices. We are showing the best all wool $5.00 Blankets in the country. If you doubt this come in and we will prove it. We have finer goods all the way up to $12.00 a pair, but for $5.00, $6.00 $7.00 and $8.50 a pair, we can sell you blankets fit for anyone, no matter how much money they can afford to pay. A beautiful stock of Comforts in Eiderdown, Wool, and Laminated Cotton are being shown in the same department with blankets. Take the elevator and get off right at the comfort and blanket department. You will find some one there ready and willing to show you, and the goods can be delivered within a very short time at your home.

Our new electric elevator has been finally inspected, and is now in use, and we invite the trade to take advantage of it. We installed it for your convenience.
